NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Submission Procedures

For ARTICLES, authors should submit two hard copies of their manuscript, double-spaced (including notes, bibliography, and citations) and printed on only one side of standard, 8 ½ by 11 inch, paper. Submission of a manuscript will be understood as an avowal that it presents original work not under consideration for publication elsewhere. The author's name and initials may not appear either in headers and footers, or on the first or last page of the manuscript. Rather, a letter or cover sheet that provides the author's mailing and email addresses, as well as the title of the submission must accompany the manuscript. Submissions are accepted in either English or Portuguese, but should include an abstract written in the other language (i.e., manuscript in Portuguese, abstract in English). It will be assumed that the author has retained a copy of the manuscript. Authors are encouraged to submit articles electronically, either through e-mail or on diskette, but should always send hard copies as well. Accepted manuscripts typically range from 12 to 30 pages. All manuscripts should be formatted either in MLA or Chicago style and use endnotes rather than footnotes.

All BOOK REVIEWS are solicited by the editors and should be submitted in electronic format. The length of book reviews is typically 750 words and must include both the author's name and the full citation of the book being reviewed. Unsolicited reviews are considered only with the prior approval of the editors.

Copyright Information

Once the manuscript has been accepted for publication, The University of Wisconsin Press will secure its copyright. In submitting a manuscript the author grants to the Press exclusive world rights in all languages, while the Press grants to the author personal use of the article and, upon written request, the right to republish the article with notice of prior publication in the Luso-Brazilian Review. The Press shall be responsible for all details of publishing the article, including electronic display of all book reviews and selected articles on the journal's homepage, and licensing to reprint agencies, databases, abstracting and indexing services.

Authorization to reproduce material from this journal, beyond one copy for personal use or that permitted by Sections 107 and 108 of US Copyright Law, is granted for a fee.
